The Democrats elected seven members of the City Council and the Republicans nine. The Democrats elected four members of the Board of Education and the Republicans six.

The election of Mr. William B. Doyle was conceded by the Democrats at 9 o'clock.

At that hour returns had been received from enough precincts to show that the gain which Mr. Charles H. Isbell was getting would not be sufficient to carry him to victory.

In the Republican precincts he made large gains. The first to report were the Republican strongholds. In all of these he made a gain that would have won out had it continued. Unfortunately when the Democratic precincts were reached the gains were on the other side. This accounts, in a great measure, for the defeat of the Democratic candidate for Mayor.

The splendid support received by Mr. Isbell in the Republican wards was a vindication of his fight to obtain better conditions for the property owners and taxpayers of Akron. But the Machine interests, which controlled the patronage of the Board of City Commissioners, with their corresponding ability to influence the action of many of the voters by promises or otherwise, were too well-organized to be combatted by Mr. Isbell, supported though he was by one of the most select and independent classes of citizenship which ever favored an Akron candidate for Mayor.

At the City Board of Elections the only candidates present were: Mr. Charles H. Isbell, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, Mr. Charles C. Benner, the nominee of the Democrats for City Solicitor and Mr. Osborne ESGATE, the Republican candidate for the same position. In marked contrast to the preceding elections, the noisy element was absent. They were at other places waiting to hear the news. At 10 o'clock all the precincts had reported. The crowds on the street dispersed quickly and by midnight the election excitement was all over.

The results follow:

CHARLES H. ISBELL.

Johnson Carries Cleveland

By a Plurality of Nearly 6,000.

Mayor Jones Re-elected In Toledo.

Mr. Hinkle Wins Out In Columbus--Other Cities.

The Democrat received bulletins this morning announcing that Mr. Tom L. Johnson had been elected to the Cleveland Mayorship by a plurality of upward of 6,000. The complexion of the next Council is uncertain.

Mayor Jones, the independent candidate for a third term as Mayor of Toledo, who had the endorsement of the Democratic party, was elected by a plurality of 3,000. He will have control of the Council as an aid to his administration.

Mr. Hinkle, the Democratic nominee for Mayor of Columbus, was elected by a plurality of 381. This was one of the bitterest fights in the state, being waged upon the street railway issue.

At Canton, Mayor Jas. H. Robertson, Republican, was re-elected by a plurality of 300, greatly reduced from that of two years ago. Ed. B. Bour, a Grand Army man, was elected Marshal by 150. The Democrats elected a street Commissioner and four out of seven Councilmen.

Norwalk elected a Democratic Mayor. At Kent the Republicans elected two Councilmen and the Democrats one. All are favorable to the Northern Ohio Traction Co. This insures the passage of the franchise for a line through that city.

$6000

Changed Hands
On the Result.

Bert Eckerman a Big Winner.

Most of the Bets Were For Small Sums.

An Akron man who placed a number of bets for himself and others on the result of the election estimated that $5,000 or $6,000 changed hands Monday night. One of the heaviest winners was Mr. Bert Eckerman, of the Capitol saloon. His winnings are placed at $600. Sheriff F. G. Kelly cleared up a few hundred dollars. City Commissioner John Crisp and Messrs. Dennis Collins and John Koerber are others who had good sized sums at stake.

Mr. N. M. Berk was a cheerful loser. The great majority of bets were in sums of from $1 to $10. There were many of these.
